Keith: Erick, the IANA Transition Committee have said they would like one proposal from Names community, but would accept separate proposals from GTLD community and ccTLD community pindarhk: Thanks Jonathan. p.

JJS 2: QUESTION: In a session yesterday on Transition, Larry Strickling, in his concluding remarks, found there was quite a lot of overlap between the CWG and the CCWG, and suggested it may be worth looking at merging the first into the second. My questions are: 1) How likely is this? 2) If not likely, why? END OF QUESTION. Jean-Jacques Subrenat (member of ICG).

Jennifer Chung: Thank you Jean-Jacques, the ICG Secretariat have you in the queue.
 -------------------------------------- (02/09/2015 12:13) --------------------------------------
JJS 2: That's correct, my use of "merging" was incorrect. But my question remains valid.

Mohamed EL Bashir: i recall the his remarks was of overlapping of work in some accountability work

JJS 2: @Mohamed: yes.

Marc Blanchet: regarding previous comment on IPR, is it that the trademarks are owned by ICANN not NTIA?

Alissa Cooper: <COMMENT>I'm not sure what the question about IPR was specifically referencing, but in regards to the main IPR issue discussed by the IETF working group and CRISP team, the IPR in the iana.org domain name and the IANA trademark are held by ICANN, not the US government. So there is no notion of the rights in those items being granted to ICANN by the USG. ICANN owns them.</COMMENT> --Alissa Cooper, with my IETF participant hat on
 -------------------------------------- (02/09/2015 12:17) --------------------------------------
Jennifer Chung: Thank you Alissa, the ICG Secretariat have you in the queue.

------------------------------------ (02/09/2015 12:19) ------------------------------------

Erick Iriarte Ahon: interesting position alissa, but the box not necessary the content of the box, we can change the name and keep the content ;)

Alissa Cooper: @Erick both of the proposals also speak to the contents of the registries, but that issue did not generate as much discussion.
------------------------------------ (02/09/2015 12:22) ------------------------------------

Erick Iriarte Ahon: good point gaetano

Erick Iriarte Ahon: @alissa i think this could be a prolem at the final.. iana will be named iana?
------------------------------------ (02/09/2015 12:35) ------------------------------------

a: Way to go Bruce. Keep it simple.

Tan Hock Choon: Agreed with Bruce
------------------------------------ (02/09/2015 12:47) ------------------------------------

Jordan Carter: There is a way that the value of the intellectual property rights in #IANA could be discovered - #ICANN could auction it off. :-) </joke>
------------------------------------ (02/09/2015 12:55) ------------------------------------

Jennifer Chung: Please note: The moderator has now closed the queue for in-person and remote participation questions or comments. Thank you.
