

.ORG DNSSEC Activity

March 2009

DNSSEC Rollout Update

» OPERATIONAL READINESS

- We have opened a Beta test period, interested registrars can participate
- We have drafted and submitted a DNSSEC Manual to the DNSSEC Coalition for standardizing implementation across registries
- The majority of the technology related work has been completed
- The .ORG zone signing and Beta tests of domain names is on track for 1H2009

DNSSEC Outreach

» Blogging

- Our blog is updated frequently with issues related to DNSSEC
- We have guest bloggers who continue to reinforce the need for DNSSEC, educating the public on DNSSEC
- Blogs written to address the Fear, Uncertainty and Doubt (FUD) on DNSSEC implementations.

» Events & Panels

- You can find the .ORG Team & DNSSEC Coalition members at many events around the world
 - GovSec 2009
 - Black Hat Security Conference
 - CENTR Barcelona
 - APWG Meeting at RSA 2009

How can you help?

- » Do you want to be a guest blogger?
- » Do you know of thought leaders and DNSSEC advocates that would like to guest on The .ORG Blog?
- » Are you a registrar that wants to participate during the Beta test period?

LET US KNOW!

Thank You!

Lance Wolak, Director of Marketing & Product Management

.ORG, The Public Interest Registry

lwolak@pir.org

<http://www.pir.org>