[10:01] Statton_Ham: YMCA
[10:04]  eckhaus: New best story here. Someone's bags were held up in Paris. When they arrived here in Nairobi all his pants were stolen
[10:04] Tony_Kirsch: tim cole?
[10:04] Jothan_Frak: wow that's a story
[10:04]  eckhaus: he never wears pants anyway
[10:05] Matt_Serlin: assuming they were able to replace them...i hope anyway
[10:05]  eckhaus: we are just waiting for a few people to settle in here then we will start
[10:09] Sean: Marika_Konings: can you still see this?
[10:10] Matt_Serlin: yup...we can see
[10:12] Michele_Ney: looking for dialin numbers ..

[10:14] Michele_Ney: Michele Neylon - Blacknight
[10:14] Pam_Little: Pam Little, ICANN
[10:18] Jothan_Frak: me too
[10:24] James_Blade: Slides at: http://docs.google.com/present/edit?id=0AWHc6OCksPGSZGhoY2l2NNrNfNTloc3MzNWRRmNw&hl=en
[10:25] Bob_Connell: Just testing,
[10:26]  eckhaus: thanks for your patience everyone
[10:29]  eckhaus: thanks Bob
[10:34] jberryhill: IRT - 5 days notice sufficient for take-down / PEDNR 45 days notice insufficient for expiration
[10:41] Michele_Ney: zomg - it's a blonde berryhill
[10:43] jberryhill: Settle down, tiger
[10:56] eckhaus: Applause here in Nairobi
[10:56] Statton_Ham: "GAC booted thugs"?
[10:58] Michele_Ney: great - I don't have a GAC rep :(;
[11:00] Peter_Larse: michele: you may borrow mine
[11:01] Michele_Ney: peter - I don't speak Danish ;)
[11:06] Matt_Mansel: Head of UK e-crime unit is awesome! Her team just drink tea all day and attend Nominet / ICANN meetings. Therein lies the issue!
[11:06] Michele_Ney: Matt - she the one who was at Lords?
[11:08] Matt_Mansel: Yes, actually great offline from Lords, but the team were as you saw them!
[11:08] Michele_Ney: though why I'd be talking to UK police is another thing ..
[11:09] Michele_Ney: Would someone please remind SVG that he is French
[11:09] Michele_Ney: even if he is a plastic Frenchman
[11:16] Steve: Tim (Cole), Can you read this?
[11:22] Nick_Ashton: Read 5x5
[11:22] Michele_Ney: Nick - are you in the room?
[11:22] Nick_Ashton: I am :)
[11:22] Nick_Ashton: morning :)
[11:23] Nick_Ashton: Sorry if changing the chat module caused any grief
[11:23] Michele_Ney: so calling you names would be a bad idea I guess
[11:23] Nick_Ashton: we took advantage of the break to upgrade
[11:23] Michele_Ney: though you've managed to rename me to a number
[11:23] Michele_Ney: sigh
[11:23] Nick_Ashton: well it depends upon whatn name you call me :)
[11:23] Nick_Ashton: the number ending is an automatic thing, it happens when you disconnect and reconnect
[11:24] eckhaus416: see you Mason
[11:24] Michele_Ney: Paul - it's reasonably functional, but it won't take IRC command
[11:25] Michele_Ney: FYI - Paul Kelly is Blacknight as well
[11:25] Nick_Ashton: FYI, you can also join these rooms using a full IRC client, connect to chat.icann.org
[11:26] Peter_Larse: yes
[11:26] Nick_Ashton: I actually have all rooms logged in myself, in Babbel
[11:26] Peter_Larse: and the room is #aderdene
[11:26] czar: sorry.. its #aberdere
[11:26] Nick_Ashton: The room names in chat.icann.org are the same as the physical room names, and the names of the AC rooms
[11:26] Michele_Ney: Nick - does that hook into this chat? or is it a separate thing?
[11:26] Nick_Ashton: I think I will make a blog post about this later
[11:26] Michele_Ney: ie. can Mason and co see people connected via IRC or not?
[11:27] czar: if you can see me, yes
[11:27] Nick_Ashton: Yes it is directly connected to this chat, as is the low-bandwidth web chat client from the agenda pages
[11:27] * czar = alterego for Peter_Larsen
[11:27] Michele_Ney: dude your office is beside mine
[11:28] Nick_Ashton: Our own Roman Pelikh, who is in the room right now, built this, as a way to ensure that low-bandwidth users would be able to chat with everyone in the AC rooms
[11:28] Michele_Ney: If I stand up I see your red head
[11:30] eckhaus416: 2 minutes everyone
[11:30] eckhaus416: till we restart
[11:31] * paul-39122 wonders why chat.icann.org does have an AAAA record :/
[11:31] Michele_Ney: does or doesn't?
[11:31] paul-39122: doesn't even
[11:34] paul-39122: audio going nuts...
[11:37] blacknight: hmmmm
09:45  eckhaus416: he is inches away
[11:45] paulkelly: audio breaking up badly here :(
[11:45] paulkelly: Michele_Neylon18194: how's it for you?
[11:45] Steve: Take the low bandwidth one. It's fine for me.
[11:49] Michele_Ney: paul - I'm dialed in - I'll send you the phone details via MSN or something
[12:07] Rick_Alfvin: NAH has indicated that the AC Chat interface will be upgraded during a break.
[12:09] Michele_Ney: some people in that group have zero concept of reality
[12:09] Paul_Diaz18: don't shoot the messenger
[12:10] Michele_Ney: Paul - I wouldn't [12:10] Michele_Ney: Paul - her diplomacy is always amazing :)
[12:14] eckhaus416: Amazing how many bottles of water she is drinking
[12:14] Matt_Mansel: Complety agree and think that will help get some benefit out of the exercise for RC members
[12:18] James_Blade: Amen, Michele. This is an area where we need the chair to speak up.
[12:23] Matt_Mansel: Would love too Michele! I struggle to work out how too! I tried once and got no reply!
[12:23] Michele_Ney: Matt - it's not rocket science - I'm on several WGs
[12:23] Michele_Ney: Matt - just ask Marika
[12:24] PRNinc1301: @ Rick_Alfvin_TECH this room does NOT need upgrade of the chat (it is the latest already)
[12:24] Matt_Mansel: It is for my day I'm afraid! Will make more of an effort and get in touch with Marika and yourself offline for some help if thats ok
[12:24] Michele_Ney: Matt - please do
[12:25] Michele_Ney: Matt - there are more than 60 companies in the RC - only a small number weigh in [12:25] Michele_Ney: a very small number
[12:28] eckhaus416: No slide for this
[12:28] Michele_Ney: ah ok
[12:28] Matt_Mansel: In fairness, I think its hard for the smaller registrars to weigh in as they/we don't have dedicated resource to alloate to it
[12:28] Marika_Koni: There are no slides for this update, the slides are there for the next topic
[12:28] Michele_Ney: Matt - and we're so massive?
[12:28] Matt_Mansel: But you don't sleep - exception to the rule!
[12:28] Michele_Ney: ROFL
[12:28] eckhaus416: Not sure many have a dedicated resource. Most have day jobs besides this [12:29] Michele_Ney: dude - you can join a WG and just follow the mailing list and the recordings
12:29 Matt_Mansel: I will do..
12:29 Michele_Ney: you don't need to weigh in fulltime unless you want to 12:29 Michele_Ney: Matt - more non-American registrars on calls would be welcome
12:30 eckhaus416: especially ones with GAC reps
12:30 eckhaus416: :-)
12:30 Michele_Ney: for example
12:30 Michele_Ney: though at least we have someone on the icann board..
12:30 Matt_Mansel: Jeff. Would be interested to find out how many do or at least have ICANN within their official remit? If the hunch is right, in might help you to think of other ways to attract involvement
12:32 James_Blade: Michele: Of course, those of us who do participate probably don't serve the cause of recruitment by whining about things like PENDR. Might be having the opposite effect. :)
12:32 James_Blade: PEDNR is great! Free cookies every Tuesday!
12:33 jberryhill: test
12:33 Paul_Diaz18: @James, at least lots of bubbles...
12:33 Michele_Ney: ROFL
12:34 * blacknight slaps Michele_Neylon18194
12:34 jberryhill: Michele, not now... behave
12:35 James_Blade: De finitinos, but not study methodology.
12:35 jberryhill: The one and only time anyone was interested in protecting registrant privacy is the underlying study data here - only NORC can provide whois privacy
12:35 James_Blade: Agree with Mr. Pesci.
12:26 eckhaus: Is anyone at the pajama party snoring?
12:26 eckhaus: can hear it on the line
12:26 Michele_Ney: lol
12:26 Peter_Larse: agree
12:26 Peter_Larse: someone is
12:30 Matt_Serlin: no on here
12:30 Matt_Serlin: and we're on mute anyway
12:32 Peter_Larse: well, it's gone now..
12:39 Michele_Ney: dialling back in..
12:39 Michele_Ney: I'd concur with Krista - was expecting a list
12:46 Matt_Mansel: Here, here. VERY SENSIBLE and will make it bigger and better for all!
12:47 Rob_Hall: I agree with Rod. The reality is applications will most likely only come in on the very last day.
12:47 Tony_Kirsch: Agreed. And i would think that only a small percentage of applications are public now
12:48 Rob_Hall: If you publish the EOI's as they come in, very few will apply before the last day.
12:48 Jeffrey_Eck: Publishing EOI's as they come in is not on the table
12:48 Jeffrey_Eck: and not an option
12:48 Matt_Serlin: Disagree with Rod... when you have certain parties who are announcing things outside of the actual process only leads to problems
Matt_Serlin: and shouldn't be encouraged
Rob_Hall: Matt: how do you stop that? A company can announce at any time they have applied. who cares? I think they are crazy to announce ahead of time, as it lets others into the game for the same string.
Rob_Hall: They seem to forget that money wins here in most cases.
Matt_Serlin: well true, but let's leave it up to the applicants...of course if they want to accound something they are free to do so
Matt_Serlin: but shouldn't be encouraged to do so by the CEO
Rob_Hall: fair enough.
Jothan_Frak: honestly the concept of confidentiality is a two edged blade
Michele_Ney: international?
Michele_Ney: sigh
Jothan_Frak: oops wrong window, apologies
Michele_Ney: Jothan - is your internet working?
Jothan_Frak: rod, you can always do QVC as a hand model in case this gets boring
Jeffrey_Eck: FYI - this chat is on the big screen here in the room
Jeffrey_Eck: everyone can read
Jothan_Frak: I would hope registrars can read :)
Michele_Ney: :)
Michele_Ney: Where is this tool??????
Michele_Ney: So true - Digital Britain anyone?
Jothan_Frak: is that chart available as a pdf somewhere?
James_Blade: Getting that from politicians -within- ICANN as well.
Jothan_Frak: we appreciate the organiztional efforts
Statton_Ham: Thar statement is true. There is some potential scary legislation out there that could affect what we do.
Michele_Ney: Especially in EU countries
Matt_Mansel: Digital Britain saga is a brilliant example! Politicians completeing mis-understanding our industry
Paul_Diaz18: And with the U.S. Federal Trade Commission
Rob_Hall: Touchdown?
Jothan_Frak: Well, I do appreciate the way thngs like the IDN and outreach have happened to elevate people's interest in figuring out what ICANN is Michele_Ney: time to order pizza I think
Hirokatsu_O: I already did
Michele_Ney: Hirokatsu - where are you? Japan? Nairobi? Australia?
Hirokatsu_O: home
Hirokatsu_O: Yokohama
Statton_Ham: If I read this right- EOI opens in 2011?
Jeffrey_Eck: No
Statton_Ham: Ok. What's the earliest month?
Jeffrey_Eck: Month 0 is Jan 1
Jeffrey Eck: or earlier
Susan Reyno: December I think jberryhill: Is there a question Kurt has not been asked by now?
Jeffrey Eck: exactly
jberryhill: When did Amadeu become a registrar?
Michele Ney: um that's a new one jberryhill: Nice to see he's gone slumming with us, though...
Nick Ashton: Afternoon/Morning/Evening everyone
Nick Ashton: stopping by to see how things are working :)
Matt Serlin: thanks Nick...things going well from here in Reston
Nick Ashton: Glad to hear it
Matt Serlin: and i believe Nairobi as well, but will defer to those on the ground there
Matt Serlin: and our other folks around the world
Peter Larse: jberryhill: core is a registrar?
Rob Hall: I don't agree that transfers are a bad thing. People sell companies all the time. Why are we trying to handcuff a shareholder
Nick Ashton: alternating Q&A between local and remote going OK?
Jeffrey Eck: Agree, Rob
Michele Ney: Nick - works fine mostly
Jeffrey Eck: even though your double negative now confused me
Jeffrey Eck: I am OK with transfers
Michele Ney: Rob / Jeff - companies change hands etc., etc - don't see why it would be a big deal
Rob Hall: I could see not allowing a company to transfer the actual EOI to another company, but who cares about change of control of a company
Rob Hall: Let me assure you Curt, an acquisition registrar costs a hell of a lot more than that !
Peter Larse: .. icann's sign with the 3 years plan just dropped from the wall..
James Blade: Nick: Anything we can do to increase mic gain level a few clicks would be great.
James Blade: @Krista: You look like you just stepped off the Red Carpet in Hollywood.....
Jeffrey Eck: She still has Oscar fever
jberryhill: I still want to know how to get the secret word list
Krista Papa: @James: Awww shucks. Thank you. We wear regular clothes to the meeting here, instead of PJ's James Blade: There's no cam in Reston. We're all in our bathrobes over here...
jberryhill: I thought you brought snuggies
Thomas Barr: What's wrong with PJ's?
Tim Cole: nighties
James Blade: Not everyone can afford a snuggie...
Krista Papa: the rest of our room is wearing Joe Alagna's pants
Thomas Barr: Psych!
Jothan Frak: I thought Stephane sold Joe's pants to buy fancy glasses jberryhill: The dress code for the gala event is "smart casual or national dress"... Joe's national dress is "no pants"

Jeffrey_Eck: ICANN is having an auction on pants this week to raise funds

Jothan_Frak: I'd like to express my interest in bidding

Jeffrey_Eck: OK, who registered joespants.com?

Michele_Ney: Pam was CCed on the email from David

Michele_Ney: with the raw data on the transfers

Bob_Connell: Are they allowed to use radar?

Michele_Ney: what has radar got to do with anything?

Michele_Ney: what has radar got to do with anything?

jberryhill: I thought he had a malignant growth there...

James_Blade: "Tuffia" means "Closet" in Swahili

Bob_Mountai: I thought it was Water Closet.

Jeffrey_Eck: There is an Idi Amin suite here at KICC. we should have it there jberryhill: Meeting is in the third stall. Tap foot three times for admission

Thomas_Barr: How much does it cost to exit?

Tim_Cole: Thursday's Training Program Meeting: http://icann.na3.acrobat.com/taifa/

Tim_Cole: 16:00 -17:30

Matt_Serlin: everybody on the phone back?

James_Blade: The TIm Channel is back on. I think I'll just DVR this episode

Nick_Ashton: The audio stream is working

Nick_Ashton: from the AC room

Michele_Ney: Agreed with Rob

Krista_Papa: not much restin' in Reston. you guys are troopers!

Thomas_Barr: time for happy hour

Michele_Ney: are we done?

Tony_Kirsch: i think so

Jeffrey_Eck: DONE

Jeffrey_Eck: time for drinks

Tony_Kirsch: enjoy my man, time for sleep here
