GSE Interactive Session for Thursday March 27: Expanding Communities

Framing Question: How can we build on - and learn from – the results of active outreach (e.g. with Business Stakeholders) to expand outreach to other communities (e.g. Civil Society or Academia)?

Background on Business Engagement:
The ICANN Business Engagement program has existed for nearly one year.

1. Tactics:
   - Social Media “ICANN4Biz” (followers - Twitter = 600, LinkedIn = 160)
   - Business Digest meeting summaries = 4614 total views on Slideshare
   - ICANN Meeting Newcomers Program:
     - Pre-meeting webinar (40 attendees, 100+ views)
     - Welcome events: (120 attending ICANN49 pre and welcome events)
   - Speaking engagements (audiences = 100’s)
   - Executive Roundtables (dozens, including at CEO level)
   - Targeted 1-on-1’s with Internet business leaders and partner organizations
   - Specialty programs, e.g. “How to Host an L-root” or “Trademark Clearinghouse Q&A”

2. Results:
   - Increased name recognition and awareness of ICANNs role
   - Growing number of followers
   - Increased attendance at ICANN meetings
   - Increased participation in other Internet related activities, e.g. Brazil

3. Lessons
   - Differentiation by sector (after initial awareness raising)
   - Tailoring the message (e.g. TMCH v. L-Root v. GNSO policy – What is of interest?)
• Local language translation is very important
• Simplify the message and be ICANN-constituency-agnostic
• Amplify message through business associations and partner organizations

4. Shortfalls

• We can make better use of the online learning platform
• We must streamline onboarding to active participation or “membership”
• Businesses need easy answers “Where do I sign up?” and “What should I do?”

Group Discussion:

How can we apply this experience to new communities or expand awareness in existing stakeholder categories, focusing on the “outer circles” of the model below?

2. Civil Society
